

Britta Wilk McKenna

FOUNDER, BREAST CANCER MYSTORY

SPEAKING TOPICS:

BEYOND PINK

Thoughts on moving from awareness to support and after care.

HOW TO LOSE YOUR BREAST/S AND FIND YOURSELF

Reflections on mastectomy, reconstruction and reducing your chances of cancer recurrence.

YOU TAKE CARE

Creating an after care plan and finding your 'new normal' after cancer treatment

10 WAYS TO BECOME AN EMPOWERED CAREGIVER

Tips and lessons learned from being both a patient and a caregiver.

Note: No speaker fee; honorariums to Breast Cancer MyStory appreciated.

The mission of Breast Cancer MyStory, Inc. is to provide online companionship and relevant information for all those affected by breast cancer.

As a perpetual community entrepreneur over the past two decades, Britta's latest venture as Founder of Breast Cancer MyStory, a 501 (c) 3 non-profit, incubated during her personal experience with DCIS, stage 0 breast cancer. Frustrated with a lack of good, personal information online about the disease, McKenna started writing down her questions and answers, blogging her feelings and tracking current research. Breast Cancer MyStory is a soft space to land online when the hard diagnosis of breast cancer hits. Britta's passion for sharing and caring now extends offline to speaking engagements; contact her today to reserve your group's date.

AWARDS & HONORS

- 2012 – Batavia Citizen of the Year
- 2011 – Northern Illinois University Model Public Administrator Award
- 2010 – Academy of Holy Names Athletics Hall of Fame
- 2005 (swimming & volleyball)
- 2006 – Batavia Chamber of Commerce Donna Dallassee Award
- 2004 – Co-Founder, Batavia Parks Foundation
- 2002 – Com-Ed 100 "Keeping Things Bright in the Community" Award
- 2001 – BP Leader Award/Education

For more information or to have Britta speak at your event please contact her at:

info@breastcancermystory.org or 630.981.1350

breastcancermystory.org

breast cancer
MyStory